GFAA Gallery presents Timeless: Black & White Works. Local art for sale! Exhibition runs from February 26 through March 21. Smaller artwork & crafts are available for sale in our updated Gift Shop. Artist and Patron Memberships available! Visit gainesvillefinearts.org
IMAGE DETAIL: Waterfalls by Lale Gerger.

2. Bingo Deli & Pub: 619 S Main St. Unit 14 / 352-451-4470

Host's Photographer Bob Senesac. He enjoys exploring and envisioning how to texture and mount his images to metal frames. With this new process, the images are sealed and protected, facilitating the elimination of glass in the framing process with no reflection to distract the viewer. The metal frames are a creative extension of the image!

3. Civic Media Center: 433 S Main St, Gainesville, FL, Civic Media Center and Stetson Kennedy Library Inc. Founded on Oct. 1993. Is an alternative library and Nonprofit grassroots organizing, activism, and public awareness space.

7. The Bull, 18 Sw. 1st Ave.

Charles McWhorter: As I've entered my 60s as an artist and an oil painter, I've decided my art is what I need to give of myself in the homestretch of my life. I've decided; post my final work a day job. I will work in the service of others, in order to make more time for my art in the remainder of my life.

8. Top Secret Space, 10 N. Main St.

Both Friday and Saturday nights. Dec. 6&7! Moving Units is a group show put on by @oldheadgnv featuring many artists of different disciplines and mediums. Join us 12/6-7 at 10 N Main St. from 7-10 both nights. Saturday night will also include a set of electronic music put on by @squaredwave

9. The SL8 Gallery of ART 10 E. University Ave.

During Artwalk and the month of March 2025, the SL8 Gallery will be focusing on the artwork of John Korb, a local artist with a breadth and depth of artistic talents and shrewd. biting commentary. From the sublime to the, well, less! <https://www.instagram.com/thesl8gallery/>
